KIND WORDS FOR NEW Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY.

Prof. Charles Dushan Will Arrive Monday from Charleston, S. C.—Something of His Work There.

The Charleston, S. C., Post of Thursday afternoon has the following to say of Wilmington's new Y. M. C. A. secretary and physical director, who will be here next week:

Prof. Charles Dushan, physical director of the Young Men's Christian Association, who tendered his resignation to take effect September 1, will leave Monday to take charge of the gymnasium in Wilmington. Prof. Dushan will be greatly missed by the classes and officials of the local association as well as by a large circle of warm friends that he has made during his connection, and their well wishes will accompany him in his new home. He worked hard and faithfully for the athletic sports and was chiefly instrumental in the organization of the basket ball and other leagues. Through his guidance these were made popular with the public and strong teams were formed under his direction to play against other cities in this section.

Prof. Dushan was very popular with the gymnasium classes, the members of which hate to part with him, recognizing his splendid services as instructor and director. The young men were strengthened physically by the courses and received great benefits from the training.

The pictures of the classes that were under Prof. Dushan are now on exhition. There are 128 in all.

Lumber Bridge Light Infantry.

Savannah News 29th: A number of the visiting riflemen will leave to-day. Among those going are the Lumber Bridge Light Infantrymen. These North Carolinians have been favorites during their stay. They have shot well, and this is a satisfaction to them and to their Savannah friends. The Lumber Bridge men use the obsolete Springfields with the buckhorn sights, and it is strange that they did so well. The sights have no wind guage, so that it is necessary for the men to aim right or left to counteract wind influences. The Lumber Bridge boys declare that they will be back when the Savannah shoot is held next year, and that they will have good guns if they have to buy them themselves."

Social Club at Caswell.

The members of Companies 38 and 102, Coast Artillery, at Fort Caswell, have built at the Fort a comfortable and convenient club house to be used as a place of recreation and social amusement for its members. The organization has been christened "The Akerman Club" and the popular Sergeant Obenshane has been placed in charge. A house warming was given by the club Tuesday night.

The Female Baseballists.

The Chicago Stars, a female baseball aggregation is exciting no end of interest and drawing large crowds in all towns in Eastern North Carolina. Thursday the Stars defeated Newbern in a closely contested game and yesterday afternoon at Kinston a game was played to a full grand stand. The Wilmington cranks are wondering if the team is coming this way.

Complimentary German.

Dr. T. B. McClintic, surgeon in charge of the Cape Fear Quarantine Station, gave a delightful complimentary german to a number of young friends at Southport Thursday night. There were several couples from Wilmington as well as Fort Caswell at the dance, which was an elegant one in every respect.

CARS TO THE BEACH.

Long Cherished Dream of Wilmingtonians Realized in the Initial Trip Yesterday.

THE SCHEDULE FOR TO-DAY.

First Installment of Electric Equipments Put to Satisfactory Test—Complimentary Trip to Hotel Guests and Friends by Officials.

Suburban Car No. 33, the first in readiness for operation on the Seacoast tracks by the Consolidated Railways, Light and Power Company, made its initial trip to Wrightsville beach last night, leaving the city at 7:30 o'clock. Aboard the car for the special trip were several of the officials of the company and a number of employes and friends, including several ladies.

The trip was without a jar or an unfavorable incident of any kind and members of the party enjoyed a most delightful ride under perfect weather conditions. General Manager A. B. Skelding, of the company, who understands every detail of the electric railway business from bonding a line of track to the financial management of a great system, acted as motorman and drove the car with as much ease and comfort to the travellers as if he were a veteran at the controller. While no effort was made to attain great speed, the trip was made to the beach in about 40 minutes and in perhaps less than that time "No. 33" was again at the junction, at Front and Princess, with a merry party of Seashore Hotel guests and residents on the beach, who came up for a complimentary ride about the city and return to Wrightsville. Mr. Skelding says on one stretch of track by Delgado, the car was let out to a velocity of 40 miles an hour and it handled itself as smoothly and gracefully, almost as a Pullman. Those who were guests of the road for the complimentary trip were highly elated and vied with one another in enthusiastic expression at the realization of a dream long cherished by the people of the city.

The car left for the final trip to the beach for the night at 11 o'clock and returned shortly after midnight this morning. The beach "trolley" created no end of interest enthusiasm and admiration as the first one came rolling down the Princess street "pike" at 6 o'clock yesterday evening. At the junction the sharp curve to the Front street line was turned with no great trouble and during a short pause there, a sight of the new car was enough to draw an immense crowd. It reminded one of circus parade times and the comment of the crowd was varied, interesting and sometimes amusing. However, all were pleased and will stake their coin for a ride upon the least provocation. The cars are painted and trimmed very much like the smaller cars of the street railway system; fitted with double trucks and the best dynamos of the Westinghouse Co. Seats are provided for 48 persons on each side of an aisle extending through the car. These are reversible and very comfortable. The fronts of the car are vestibuled and present a handsome appearance; the brakes and controllers of the most approved invention. Twenty incandescents light the cars brilliantly and the open cars are provided with rolling shades or curtains.

Car No. 31 is now being unloaded at Tenth and Orange and will doubtless be ready for service this afternoon. As stated yesterday the other cars will be here next week.

For the first time to-day the public will have an opportunity of patronizing the new line. The Saturday train from the city to the beach at 1 o'clock this afternoon has been cancelled, and in its stead Car No. 33 will leave the Front and Princess junction at the same hour. The same car will return, leaving the beach at 2 P. M. To-night instead of a train leaving at 11 P. M., a car will leave Front and Princess streets at the same hour and return, leaving the beach at midnight.

Early in the evening two cars will leave the junction at 6:30 and 7 P. M., and both will return at 7:45 P. M.

General Manager Skelding said last night he was unprepared to announce a schedule for Sunday, but if all went well, the steam equipment will go off altogether and the electric cars will be used exclusively.

FERTILIZER COMPANY ANSWERS COMPLAINT.

Libel Proceedings in the U. S. Court in Matter of Schooner Jos. W. Brooks. Other Shipping Notes.

The Armour Fertilizer Works, through its attorneys, Messrs. Bellamy & Peschau, yesterday answered the complaint in the libel proceedings brought by Capt. N. A. Davidson against the cargo of the schooner Jos. W. Brooks in the United States Court. The Fertilizer Works admits the contract as alleged in the complaint with the explanation that the tons of guano to be freighted were 1,000 of 2,340 pounds each, known as long tons, but that the delivery at Wilmington was to be at the rate of 150 tons per day in short tons of 2,000 pounds. Further answering the complaint the claimant denies that the libellant commenced to discharge the cargo Thursday morning as alleged, but that the discharge began on the afternoon of that day, although the claimant was ready in the morning to receive the same; that the four days thereafter the claimant requested the libellant to give him the cargo faster than it was being delivered and the said libellant failed to do the same for reasons unknown to the claimant, who was thereby put to a great disadvantage and delay. The claimant further denies that 8½ days was consumed in the discharge, but avers that eight days only was consumed even under the adverse conditions, and the claimant further says that if the libellant had delivered to it for the first four days the cargo as rapidly as the claimant was willing to receive it, the cargo could easily have been discharged in six days and that the same was not discharged in that time was not the fault of the claimant but of the libellant. It is further alleged that at the time the demand was made for freight the agent of the claimant telegraphed to the Armour Fertilizer Works to send the freight money and that a check was mailed for the same to the libellant at Savannah, Ga., whither he sailed. The claimant further alleges that it was not necessary for the schooner to lie by the cargo to secure payment of the freight money. Mr. J. C. Everett is manager of the Armour Works in Wilmington, and the answer is signed by him.

Low water is again interfering with the traffic in the Cape Fear river. The Highlander arrived yesterday a day late and expected to return last night. The Hawes came down Thursday night and cleared for the return trip yesterday afternoon.

The four-masted schooner Clara A. Donnell arrived yesterday from Boston, consigned to George Harriss, Son & Co. for a cargo of cross ties from the Hall Tie & Lumber Co. The Donnell is 991 tons burthen.

DAY IN THE COURTS.

Ben Richardson, Negro Criminal, Arrested for Rocky Mount Authorities.

BURGLARY AMONG NEGROES.

Colored Woman Had Ed Smith Arrested for Breaking in House—White Man Robbed of $285—Bernhart Arrived in Columbia

Ben. Richardson, the negro who some time ago shot Jim Venie, colored, because he was informing wholesale upon a lot of negroes who were wanted in South Carolina, and vice verse, was arrested at Seventh and Nixon streets yesterday afternoon by Policeman I. F. Huggins, under orders of Chief Furlong, who had received advices from Rocky Mount, N. C., to arrest the negro for larceny. He is also understood to be wanted at Florence, and has never answered here for the shooting of Jim Venie, who disappeared when the time came for him to testify in court against his assailant. An officer from Rocky Mount will arrive for Richardson to-day.

Ed. Smith, colored, 22 years old, was arrested by Policeman E. J. Grimsley at Front and Market streets yesterday afternoon and lodged in the station house to answer in the municipal court to-day a charge of burglary. It is alleged by Rena Green, colored, that yesterday morning about 2 o'clock Smith broke into her house in an alley between Fourth and Fifth and Church and Castle streets. A cuff left in the house after he fled through a window was used as a means of identification. Smith formerly drove a dray for the J. C. Stevenson Co., but was discharged some time ago.

Charged with the larceny of a roll of greenbacks containing $285 from a Brooklyn shopkeeper, Emeline Brown, Mary Lou Campbell, James Smith and Frank Carter, colored, were committed to jail yesterday for preliminary trial in Justice Fowler's court to-day at 11 A. M. It is understood that the evidence will show that the shopkeeper was asleep on a porch near the street and that the money was taken from his pockets.

Columbia, S. C., correspondence, News and Courier: "A young and well dressed man named Bernhart was brought here to-day from Wilmington, N. C., being wanted here on the charge of larceny. He is accused of stealing a valise full of clothing from Baggage Master Black while at a boarding house. He was placed in jail. On his person were found several pawn tickets for watches pledged in Charleston."

Frank Onslow, colored, was the only offender in the Mayor's court yesterday. He got 30 days on the roads for drunkenness and disorderly conduct in Brooklyn. The Watson Cameron hearing did not come off yesterday on account of the inability of Watson to leave the hospital. His friends, however, will be glad to know that he is doing very well.

Jim Sanford, and Wm. Hicks, colored, were arrested by Policeman Leon George yesterday, charged with assault and battery. They will be tried to-day in the Mayor's court.

ABRAM S. HEWITT ON THE COAL STRIKE.

Abraham S. Hewitt, of New York, has recently published a communication on the coal strike which meets with the hearty endorsement of the friends and organs of the Coal Trust. His views give them the greater satisfaction because he is a Democrat, an anti-protectionist, and rarely says anything on public questions that they feel like endorsing but, in his views on the strike, he hits the strikers so hard that they not only endorse but cordially commend these views as something that renders inestimable service at this time, and are in striking contrast to the "sentimentalism" of the would-be arbitrators, as the New York Sun expresses it, "headed by the Hon. Marcus Alonzo Hanna and the Rt. Rev. Henry C. Potter."

From a purely legal standpoint, Mr. Hewitt is undoubtedly right when he asserts that the striking miners have no right to prevent by violence other men from working if they want to work because that is depriving those men of the right the law gives them to sell their labor to whomsoever they please. Essentially that, from a legal standpoint, is true. They have no right to forcibly prevent a man who wants to work from working, for that not only destroys a right that man has but it subjects his family, if he have one dependent upon him, to suffering and perhaps starvation.

But there are two sides to even this phase of the question. There is, if the accounts we receive from the coal regions be correct, a surplus of miners in that coal field. For some reason the mine operators have kept more men about the mines than they had any need of at any one time. They never employed all, but so managed that all could have some work, enough probably to buy their food and pay the rent on the houses which the companies owned. All of these miners do not belong to the miners' union, and therefore those who do not do not feel bound by the action or orders of the union. These men are already in the mines, and many of them have families dependent upon their earnings for food and shelter. The union will not furnish these because the men do not belong to it. It is both cruel and unjustifiable to prevent these men from working to provide for their families, as has been done.

There is another side to it. Not satisfied with this labor, which is not sufficient, the companies send elsewhere and offer inducements to men to come and work for them, although the companies know when they do this that they will meet with opposition in importing and putting those men to work. The men so imported were not driven by necessity to come into these mines, to get between the mine operators and the striking miners, take the places of the latter and help to reduce their families to starvation. They go into the strike region knowing this, for frequently before they get into it they are put under the protection of bayonets, so that when they come, and leave employment upon which they could live, they voluntarily agree, tempted by a little higher wages than they were getting, to underwork the striker and help starve his wife and children. That's the view the striker takes of it, and that is his justification. It is with him a matter of self-preservation, which makes it necessary for him to use intimidation, and violence when intimidation fails.

Mr. Hewitt has stated the law correctly, and unfortunately the law is all on the side of the mine owner, who under the law has the right to employ whom he pleases and will have that right enforced by law if there be occasion for it. That's where the mine owner has the advantage of the miner and that's what makes him so obstinate when arbitration is proposed. The law protects the mine owner in his property rights, but there is no law, nothing but persuasion, and if that fails, brute force, by which the striker can enforce his contention and protect himself. When he resorts to that he arrays the machinery of the law against him, backed by powder and shot if necessary, so that when we come down to the bottom of it the miner's union is entirely useless and impotent to accomplish anything if the mine operators resolve to hold out and can afford to do it. If the mine operators resolved to run their mines and could put as many men to work as they had use for, a strike would be a matter of very small consequence to them. They would simply fill the places of the strikers with other men and import them if there were not enough in the mine region; but it would be a matter of serious importance to the miners for it would mean idleness, further starvation for their families, and notice to vacate the houses of the company, as was done a few days ago at one of the mines in West Virginia where a number of the miners had struck.

As between organized capital and organized or unorganized labor the law backs capital and gives it strength, while it stands between labor and what it aims at makes it weaker. If it were not for this there might be fewer strikes, and those we have be less protracted, for if the mine owners did not know that they could rely upon the strong arm of the State to protect their property and them in the right to work it with whom they please they would be less arbitrary and uncompromising. While the law protects the mine owner and gives him the right to employ whom he pleases and discharge whom he pleases, and protects the man in his right to work for whom he pleases, it deprives him of the only way he has to enforce his contention when the crisis comes between him and the mine operator, so that as far as the law goes Mr. Hewitt is right. It is all on the side of the mine operator as against the striker.

It is a very hard thing to prevent strikes from conflicting with the law somewhere, and that is one reason why they should be avoided if possible.

"RELEASED FROM THE BODY OF DEATH."

The Republican State Convention which met in Greensboro, Thursday, was in some respects the most remarkable one that was ever held in this State. In color it was white, strictly white, sat down hard on the colored brother, froze him out stiff and didn't even furnish him a cold slab to lie upon in the rear end of the hall. This was rough on the colored brother who has been standing loyally by the party ever since the franchise was conferred upon him, and has, without question, been pulling the chestnuts out of the fire for the white bosses, who were always in the front line when the pie was handed out.

This convention was run by just that kind of fellows, led by Jeter C. Pritchard, who would never have warmed a seat in the U. S. Senate if it hadn't been for the negro vote.

After this freeze out Mr. Price, the chairman, congratulated the convention on the elimination of the negro, on being at last "released from the body of death," on being white at last after long trying in a sneaking, underhand sort of way.

Possibly those Warren county "Judas Iscarot-Benedict Arnold" resolutions riled Mr. Pritchard, who passed the word along the line to his strikers to sit down on the colored contingent, and it was accordingly done.

Isn't this action, coupled with the speech of Chairman Price, (who never did have much use for the colored brother) substantially a notice to the negroes that the doors of the Republican party are shut and bolted against them? That's what it is and now it remains to be seen what the 40,000 negro voters of this State, who are so unceremoniously ejected are going to do about it, whether they will stick after being collared and cuffed in this style, go on voting for the "lily whites," who rejoiced so much at the dissolution of partisanship, or do some business on their own account.

Sir Robert Bond, the Governor of New Foundland, predicts that in a short while the run across the Atlantic will be made in 44 hours, and the trip be made from London to New York, by rail and water, with only 70 hours on water, in 100 hours, by a new route that he maps out.

Some of the negro women in Philadelphia break the monotony by playing footpad. Three of them made a unanimous bounce upon an unsuspecting white denizen a few nights ago and relieved him of $52 good cash.

HOW THEY CARE FOR THE TOILER.

President Roosevelt does not fail to distribute a good deal of taffy among the working men as he swings around in New England, and he will not fail to do it when he swings around other sections. The working men of this country have lots of votes, and if these votes can be caught with cheap taffy it will be a decidedly good trade for the taffy man.

It is somewhat remarkable, however, that this warm, brotherly interest in the begrimed, "horny-handed sons of toil" develops only periodically, just before elections, cooling down in the intervals, and put in cold storage, as it were, for future use. Perhaps some of the aforesaid sons of toil may have caught on to this.

In the sanctimonous epistle to the Pennsylvania citizen who a short while ago wrote to Mr. Bear of the Reading coal road praying him to "close the strike on a Christian basis," he assured this citizen that the elect to whom Providence, in His great wisdom, had given possession of the coal mines would look after and care for the toilers who toiled for them. How they do this for some of them, at least, is shown by the following extract from an article in a recent number of John Wanamaker's magazine, descriptive of the Pennsylvania coal region and the condition of its miners:

"They live in houses built of sheet iron and boards, about 15 feet square and sunk about 3 feet in the ground. Of course there is but room, and in this room the family—anywhere from 6 to 10 humans—cooks, eats and sleeps. Although there is plenty of space, these hutches are crowded together like troopers' bunks on a transport. The streets are so narrow one may almost touch a house on either side simultaneously. Behind these hutches stretched a great heap of ashes—the dump from the furnaces that ran the engines, a reddish-brown heap, packed hard by the rain. For obscure parts of it were yet hot, and steamed under the contact of the veil of wet. And this mass, in cooling, threw off a stench like that of burning bones; an acrid, foul odor, sweet with a nauseating, revolting sweetness, powerful, unescapable, that pervaded the entire community."

The State inspector of Pennsylvania, who recently returned from a tour of investigation in the Shenandoah region, pronounced it "the most God-forsaken country I ever saw." Now where is there room to doubt that the elect to whom the Lord has given these coal mines will duly and considerately care for the working people in their jurisdiction? Doesn't the evidence, omitting the strikes altogether, show how they are doing it?

One of the most accommodating fellows we have heard of for some time was a Nebraska young man who married a handsome young woman. He went with her to Denver, Colorado, where he had to scuffle, with luck dead against him. While he was running against luck, she ran up against another fellow who had more legal tender stuff, and it was a case of love on first sight. It didn't take the young man from Nebraska long to catch on to this, but instead of making a fuss about it as some men would have done, he simply retired, told his wife he wanted her to be happy, let her get a divorce, took out a $10,000 insurance policy for her benefit, wrote her an affectionate note, incidentally informing her about the insurance matter, then went to sequestered place, and with a pistol shot a hole through his head.

CURRENT COMMENT

— The president says, "I will do all that in me lies to so act as to represent the best thought and purpose of the wage-workers of the United States." Since Uncle Mark Hanna discovered the labor vote, they are all going out after it.—Atlanta Journal, Dem.

— This is not the first time the Southern elections have given William E. Chandler cause to worry. He had a similar attack in 1876, when he telegraphd to Florida's governor: "Hold Florida for Hayes and Wheeler. Troops and money will be furnished."—Macon Telegraph, Dem.

— The indications are that La Follette, who holds the Republican party of Wisconsin in the hollow of his hand, whose antagonism is supposed to have led Senator Spooner to express a hankering after private life, has repented, and consented to the Senator's re-election. After reading Wellman's article in the Review of Reviews and learning what a lot of chumps the Senate would be without Spooner, like Capt. Scott's coon, he came down promptly.—Louisville Courier-Journal, Dem.

— "More power for the general government," begs the President. Might it not be well to ask for some evidence that he is already using well the very large powers lodged in his office by the laws and Constitution? It is common for officials to make large promises and beg for fuller powers: one Charles of England continued to ask for more even till he lost what he had. Our President has fuller powers than the King of England: in some directions, more than the Emperor of Germany—he is considered by some economists to be more irresponsible than the Czar.—Jacksonville, Times-Union, Dem.

— Lincoln Journal: News reaches here of the death of Lee Lingerfelt, of Cherryville, as the result of a blow over the head with a club. According to the report, he and Mike Acres, the man who used the club, were drinking and became angry over some small affair. Lingerfelt died shortly after receiving the blow.

—Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligencer: The result of the second primary, held Tuesday, shows conclusively that a very strong rotation spirit prevails in the county. In the first primary Capt. McLauchlin, who has been clerk for 28 years, was defeated, and Tuesday Mr. Benton, who has held the office of register of deeds for 10 years, and Sheriff Gaddy, who has been sheriff for three terms, met the same fate. Mr. John A. McRae also defeated Capt. Frank Bennett for the Legislature. —— On Mr. J. J. Little's farm, two miles from town, on the Camden road, is growing the finest crop of cotton, corn and peas in a long time. The corn will average 11 feet high and will probably make 50 bashels to the acre. The cotton will make a bale or more per acre.

— Laurinburg Exchange: At Capt. J. T. John's gin, near John's station, last Monday, a negro boy by the name of Norman, Richard Norman's son, got his clothes caught in the shafting, carrying him over several times before the machinery could be stopped. His left leg was smashed all out of shape, his right leg and arm broken, and his left shoulder dislocated. Physicians were summoned and his leg was amputated. His condition is serious, and there is not much hope of his recovery. —— On Wednesday, at John's station, at Mr. R. E. Warwick's gin, Mr. Charlie Thrower was caught in the elevator shafting and whirled him over a number of times. He was badly bruised in several places, but no bones were broken.

— Troy Examiner: Miss Sarah McAulay, a highly respected maiden lady, of Oavil, died under rather strange circumstances, at the home of her brother, Mr. K. E McAulay, with whom she had lived all her life. She awoke her nephew, Kennie McAulay and George Yarboro, the only persons in the home last Friday night by screaming; she said when she awoke a negro man was standing at the foot of her bed, and as she arose and screamed he caught at her throat, but missing his aim, ran out at the door. When the young men reached her, they saw no one at all, but the door was open and there was unmistakable sign where some one had crawled under the house. On Saturday she seemed to be in her usual health, but very nervous. That night after she had gone to bed and had fallen asleep, they heard her struggling and when her bedside was reached she was dead, Some fiend may have entered her room, and the shock may have caused nervous prostration sufficient to produce heart failure, caused by the ravages of disease, in either case, it was indeed a sad affair.

To Broil Bacon.

Broiled bacon is a dish which in few households deserves the adjective, because it is seldom broiled; the fat is fried out of it and again soaked into it by long sputtering in a spider full of grease.

The only way to cook bacon—both for the matter of appearance and for digestive qualities—is to broil it, not over a bed of coals (it is too fat for that), but in a very hot oven. Cut the bacon in the most delicately thin slices possible, rejecting the rind. Lay the pieces close together in a fine wire broiler. Place it over a dripping pan and set in a hot oven. It requires to be turned just once. The fat which falls into the pan makes excellent drippings for frying potatoes.

Drain the bacon on brown paper. If you wish to serve calf's liver with this, sprinkle the liver with pepper and salt, roll it in flour and fry brown in the bacon drippings. Serve with a curled morsel of bacon on top of each piece of liver. Bacon as served by the average cook, well soaked in grease, is the most indigestible of food; when broiled crisp in the oven, it is a dish that may be served even for a child of two years with impunity. Among all the fats delicately crisped bacon ranks next to cream in ease of digestion.

Spinach.

Spinach derives its name from the Spanish monks, who first used it during fast days. It belongs to the beet family and is generally served as a vegetable, although it makes a delicate and appetizing salad. In the spring, when mint is fresh and green, a few leaves added to the spinach will improve the flavor, whether it is served as a vegetable or a salad.

Couldn't Be Guilty of That.

"Never," said the person of good advice to the delicately nurtured Boston youth, "never say 'I can't.'"

"Indeed, sir," responded the intellectual lad, "I trust that my diction is not so open to criticism. If you will but be attentive to my conversation, you will observe that I say 'cawn't.'"—Baltimore American.

The Wife.

"Suppose I were an absolutely perfect woman," she remarked sharply. "Do you know what you'd do then?"

"No," answered her husband. "What?"

"You'd growl because you had nothing to growl about."—Chicago Post.

He Didn't.

"Do you believe in signs?"

"No. A dentist's sign reading 'Teeth Extracted Without Pain' fell the other day just as I went under it and knocked out two teeth of mine!"—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Thought He Was Smart.

Wife—Do you mean to insinuate that your judgment is superior to mine?

Husband—Certainly not, my dear. Our choice of life partners proves it isn't.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of four points under the pressure of disappointing cables and strong intimations of rains in moisture-needing localities. After selling to the basis of 8 22 for January, however, the market commenced to improve on better indications from Liverpool which market finally closed with the net loss reduced to 1@2-64d, where at one time the English decline had been a matter of two to four points. Buying orders came with the improved market cables from Europe. The general run of private crop news continues to be very bullish, notwithstanding the forecasts of rain, some for that matter buying cotton on the theory that rains in the present condition of the crop would depreciate the grade, however it might increase the quantity of cotton. Buying was quite general, though not of large volume, with orders from the West, the South, New England and Wall street. The local contingent covered short contracts, room sentiment having been heretofore rather bearish on the rain prognostications. Sales to-day 350,000 bales. The market at best prices showed an advance of five to ten points on positions later than August which at one time showed an advance of twenty-eight points. The market was finally steady at a net rise of one to six points.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, August 29.—Flour was quiet but a shade steadier in tone. Rye flour dull. Wheat—Spot easy; No. 2 red 75. Options, with shorts covering freely all day, offerings light, showers predicted in the Northwest and the holiday season before it, the wheat market was somewhat firmer to-day and fairly active in face of lower cables and a bearish "Modern Miller" report. The close was near top and ½@¾c net higher. Sales included: May closed 74½c; September 74½c; December 72⅝c. Corn—Spot steady; No. 2 67c. Options market made sharp advances, led by September, in which vigorous covering took place, impelled by fears of cold weather and showers in the West. The market closed firm and 1c higher on September, with other months ½c higher: May closed 44½c; September closed 64½c; December closed 47½c. Oats—Spot unsettled; No. 2 34c. Options were quiet but generally higher on a demand from shorts. Sales included: May closed 35¾c; October closed —c; December closed 35¾c. Lard easy; Western steam $10 65; refined easier; continent $10 80; South American $11 75; compound 7½@8¼c. Pork steady. Butter slightly firmer; creamery 15@19c; State dairy 15@19½c. CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Frost scared the grain shorts to-day and as a result there were fair advances all along the line. As a matter of fact there were no frosts in the farm country, but the Northwest was reporting such cool weather that speculators feared possible damage. A further bull factor was the likelihood that September options were oversold, especially in oats. At the close of rather dull trading September wheat was ½@⅝c higher; September corn ⅛c up and September oats ⅜c advanced. September provisions closed 10c down to 27½c up.

CHICAGO, August 29.—Cash prices: Flour steady. Wheat—No. 3 spring 72@73c; No. 3 spring 68@71c; No. 2 red 70¾@71⅝c. Corn—No. 2, 59½c; No. 2 yellow 62c. How About That Tackle?

The blue birds are with us again. The streams and ponds are warming up. The fishermen should be looking up their outfits. Seeing if anything is wanted before the last minute.

As of old we are showing the finest things to tempt the fish kingdom and make the sport more sporty for the anglers.

Lines may be wanted; poles must be needed; hooks are very necessary, and in fact we have everything that is required to make a complete outfit.

To those that are interested in the sport, to those others that may not be so enthusiastic, we would consider it a favor to have all come in and look.

CONDENSED STORIES.

The Unkind Insinuation of Mark Twain's Jealous Acquaintance.

Mark Twain tells the following story in the North American Review: "Once I was received in private audience by an emperor. Later I was telling a jealous person about it, and I could see him wince under it, see it bite, see him suffer. I revealed the whole episode to him with considerable elaboration and nice attention to detail. When I was through, he asked me what impressed me most. I said: 'His majesty's delicacy. They told me to be sure and back out from his presence and find the doorknob the best I could do. It was not allowable to face around. Now, the emperor knew it would be a difficult ordeal for me, because of lack of practice, and so when it was time to part he turned with exceeding delicacy and pretended to fumble with things on his desk, so that I could get out in my own way without his seeing me.' He struggled along inwardly for quite awhile; then he said, with the manner of a person who has to say something and hasn't anything relevant to say, 'You said he had a handful of special brand cigars lying on the table?' 'Yes. I never saw anything to match them.' I had him again. He had to fumble around in his mind as much as another minute before he could play; then he said in as mean a way as I ever heard a person say anything, 'He could have been counting the cigars, you know.'"

He'd Heard of the Place.

Out in Detroit, according to William Alden Smith, ex-Senator Palmer has a beautiful mansion, surrounded by grounds filled with statues of Hebe, Venus, Apollo and all the other handsome gods and goddesses. One day a Michigander from the rural districts, visiting Detroit, strayed into the private park.

"THESE MUST BE THE STATUARY GROUNDS I HEAR SO MUCH ABOUT."

The man gazed at the marble figures and the surroundings with a keen sensation of having made a discovery.

"These must be the statuary grounds I hear so much about in divorce cases," was his bucolic comment.

Didn't Want the Cookbook.

In the senate cloakroom a senator from the east told a funny story. He is boarding, with his wife, at an uptown apartment house. His wife is a great reader. A day or two ago she sent her nursegirl to the Congressional library with a list of three books. "Get any of these," she said to the girl, "but if all of the books are out you can bring me any good novel."

The girl went to the library. When she returned, she brought a copy of "Unleavened Bread."

"I told the fool man," explained the girl, "that you didn't want any cookbook, because you were only boarding."

"What did the man say?" asked the senator's wife, laughing.

"He only said, 'Go along,'" replied the girl.—Washington Post.

The Clerical Garb.

When Martin Luther laid aside the monk's clothes which had up to that time been his garb, the elector of Saxony sent him a piece of black cloth. Black was at the time court fashion, and Luther had a suit made of it according to the prevailing cut of the time. His pupils followed his example, and henceforth black became the distinguishing hue of clerical garb. It was not, however, for many years afterward that the cut of a clergyman's coat became in any way different from that of the laity.

Palm Leaf Cradles.

In the palm region of the Amazon river there is a tribe whose infants are cradled in palm leaves. A single leaf turned up round the edges, according to native custom, makes a capital cradle and on occasion does service as a bath. Strong cords are fashioned from the fibers of another kind of palm by which the leaf cradle is suspended under a tree, and the wind rocks the baby to sleep.

Personal Prejudice.

"Nature," said Miss Miami Brown, "doesn' nebber make nuffin' in vain."

"Well," answered Mr. Erastus Pinkley, "it sometimes seems to me dat dar is a whole lot o' animals walkin' around dat might jes' as well uv been possums."—Washington Star.

Sure Way to Get a Job.

One of the Unemployed—I wish I had money enough so I shouldn't have to work for a living.

Another of Them—So do I. In that case, you know, it would be so easy to get a job.—Boston Transcript.

One of the Symptoms.

"But how did you know that I was in love with you?" he asked.

"You were so foolish," she answered.—Chicago Post.

Alcoholic perfumes, manufactured by saturating alcohol with the odor of certain fruits or flowers, were made as early as the fourteenth century.

Going the Limit.

A drummer named Peck put up at a hotel in Oklahoma, the landlord of which was the president of the school board. The landlord, who was a jolly, whole souled fellow, suggested that they visit the schools, the president of the board first putting on a long tailed coat, saying:

"She adds dignity, an' then she hides my gun, which are a bad example 'afore them children. I don't approve of anybody under fourteen carryin' a gun."

After returning to the hotel from the visit of inspection the president of the board, now transferred into a landlord, said:

"Peck, you're a good feller. You ain't goin' to let your light be hid under a bushel, Peck?"

"No, I ain't," said Mr. Peck, rather dubious as to the compliment.

"Well, I tell you what I'm goin' to do fer you. Bein' as you're a good feller, I'm a-goin' to have clean sheets put on your bed, dad me if I ain't!"

Awkward.

Mrs. Norton came home from a call one day in such a disturbed condition that it was evident tears were not far in the background. She lost no time in beginning her explanation.

"John," she said to her husband, "I am so mortified I don't know what to do."

"What is the matter, my dear?" asked Mr. Norton.

"I have just been calling on Mrs. Peverill. You know her husband, Major Peverill?"

"Yes."

"Well, I have just learned today, to my horror, that 'major' isn't his title at all. 'Major' is his first name."

"Why, certainly. I've always known that. What is there so mortifying about it?"

"Nothing," said Mrs. Norton, with a groan, "only that I've been calling him 'major' every time I've met him for the last six months!"—London Answers.

The "Cry" of Silk.

One of the most peculiar features about manufactured silk is the rustling sound familiar to every woman. In the silk trade they call it the "cry" or sometimes the "scroop." Of all textiles silk is the only material which possesses it.

As everybody knows, the sound is heard especially when silk is subjected to friction. What is not so generally known is that the quality is found in silk yarn before it is woven. A skein of silk, unless it has been so treated as to kill this property in it, will when opened up emit the noise slightly. When the skein is squeezed in the hand, the sound becomes quite audible.

The "cry" is considered a very desirable quality in silk. Dyers try to develop it as much as possible.

Unexpected Applause.

Shortly after Mr. Wilson Barrett joined the theatrical profession he became a member of a company performing at the old Theater Royal, Dublin. His part, naturally, was a small one, and, greatly to his surprise, his first speech was greeted with a round of applause. This unlooked for tribute elated the young actor, and he exerted himself to sustain the good impression he appeared to have made. Just as he was leaving the theater one of the scene shifters grinningly accosted him and said, "Sure, it's got about among the bhoys that ye're a brother of the man that was hung!" A Fenian named Barrett had that morning paid the extreme penalty of the law.

"I was troubled for several years with Chronic Indigestion and Nervous Debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. GREAT FUTURITY RACE AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY.

Will Be Run To-day for a Stake of Over $60,000—Thirty-one Horses Are Entered for the Event.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The "Futurity" for a stake of over $60,000, and with a record breaking list of entries for that great event will be run as the fourth race on Sheepshead Bay track to-morrow. Thirty-one horses are entered. Doubtless there will be six or seven post announcements, but it is fairly certain that twenty-five colts and fillies will face the issue over the 1,263 yards and one foot of the Futurity course. Not since 1888, when Proctor Knott won the first Futurity, has there been more intense interest than there is in the race set for to-morrow.

With a promise of good weather and the course in splendid condition, the attendance may be expected to tax the capacity of stand and field.

On the eve of the race speculation ranges over a wide field and the interest in the Futurity so far as the public is concerned is essentially that of the speculator. J. R. and F. P. Keene have five entries, all fit and each one fancied at 4 to 1. August Belmont has three colts, Fire-Eater, Mizzen and Lord of the Vale; and Whitney and Duryea will be represented by Irish Lad and Aceful. W. C. Whitney has but two entries, Medal and Payne. The former is not likely to start, as he is thought to be in altogether too fast company, while Payne, a green colt, is an unknown quantity, his price being somewhere about 12 or 15 to 1. Savable, John A. Drake's colt, will represent the West. He is not considered dangerous, though Mr. Brake is said to think well of the horse's chance. John Madden had River Pirate and Merry Reel entered, but the former, it is said, may not start, while the latter has a price of from 8 to 10 to 1 against him.

With such a field, however, the race will be a grand struggle from start to finish of the six furlongs. All of the most fancied youngsters in their trials have negotiated the course under 1:20 but it is doubtful if any of them will beat the record of 1:09 1-5 made by Yankee last year.

State Troops at Thurmond--No Outbreak. Three Companies Sent to Rush Run to Preserve Order.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Aug. 29.—When the State troops reached Thurmond to preserve order and protect property in the mine region, a request was made of Assistant Adjutant General Hutson in command to report to the operators at Rush Run for instructions. He refused point blank, and said he was there with troops to act under instructions from the sheriff of the county, to preserve order and not to take instructions from operators. Sheriff Daniel then took three companies and the signal corps to Rush Run to guard the public roads and protect people. The remainder of the troops bivouaced at Thurmond. No outbreak of any kind occurred to-day. The governor's private secretary, General Boggs, reported to the governor at noon that the utmost quiet is prevailing, but he confirms the necessity for troops on the ground. The entire strength of the regiment now at Thurmond is not quite three hundred. It was be entirely inadequate in case of violence.

The output in the New River field yesterday was thirty-eight hundred tons, about one-tenth of the usual amount.

BAYONETTED BY THE SOLDIERS.

A Sharp Encounter Between the Miners and the Military at Lansford, Pa.

SOLDIERS ROUGHLY HANDLED

With Clubbed Guns and Fixed Bayonets They Forced the Mob Back--Serious Trouble Threatened at Wilkesbarre—Situation Grave.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

TAMAQUA, PA., Aug. 29—In an encounter between troops and strikers at Lansford to-day Captain W. W. Heim of Company K, Twelfth regiment, was slightly injured. A half dozen strikers were bayonetted by the soldiers as a result of the fracas. Major Gearhart, in command of the troops here, states that he will appeal to the military authorities to put the town of Lansford under martial law.

From day-break the troops were active in quelling disturbances and protecting non-union men while on their way to work. As has been the case for the past few days the troops were jeered wherever they went.

The officers repeatedly admonished the crowds not to insult or molest the soldiers, but their words had but little effect. At 5 o'clock companies K and E were placed in two trolley cars. One of the cars was run in front of the car which carried the non-union men to work and the other in the rear. While passing through Coaldale and Lansford.

The Soldiers Were Hooted,

but as no stop was made the strikers did not make any violent demonstration. At Summit Hill about double the usual number of men availed themselves of the protection of the soldiers and went to work. The pickets of the strikers made efforts to stop them, but the warnings of the soldiers held them at bay. When the workmen had been loaded on the car the return trip through the valley commenced. The word that more men than usual were reporting for work spread through the lower part of the valley like wildfire and in a short time the streets were almost blocked with people. When the corner of Center and East Bertsch streets was reached the cars stopped to allow several non-union men to get off. As the men stepped to the ground the mob made a rush for them. A half dozen soldiers sprang off the car and with levelled guns forced the strikers back and made a passage-way for the non-union men.

Roughly Handled.

When the soldiers were returning after escorting their charges to a place of safety the mob commenced to close in around the cars. The strikers were in an ugly mood and when ordered to disperse merely yelled louder and pressed closer. As Captain Heim, of Company K, was about to jump from the car he was seized around the legs and thrown to the ground. A half dozen privates who followed him were roughly handled. One of the men had a portion of his shirt torn off and according to the enlisted men and the officers, a number of blows were struck.

Major Gearheart who was in command of the two companies then ordered his men to disembark.

With clubbed guns and fixed bayonets, the soldiers forced the crowd back. Many of the strikers stood their ground and would not move until the soldiers jabbed them with their bayonets. Some of the strikers fearing that the troops would fire, rushed into the Opera House on the corner and for a time a wild scene of confusion reigned. In about five minutes, the crowd had been pushed back to the curb line. In the melee several of the strikers were knocked down while others suffered slight bayonet wounds. Captain Heim was severely bruised by his fall.

Serious Trouble Threatened.

WILKESBARRE, Aug. 29.—Serious trouble was threatened at the Prospect and Dorrance mines of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company to-day. The strikers heard a rumor last light that the company intended to concentrate all its employes at the various mines into one working force and operate the Dorrance colliery. It is said the company has all told about 250 experienced men in its employ. If this number could be placed in one colliery like the Dorrance the mining of coal could go on without difficulty. The strikers determined to frustrate the plans of the company, if possible, and it is claimed that over a thousand men turned out and patrolled the roads leading to the mines. The officials of the coal company recognized the serious condition of affairs and Sheriff Jacobs was routed out of bed at an early hour. He went to the scene accompanied by a large number of deputies but no attempt was made to place any additional men in the Dorrance mine, and the strikers made no demonstration, many of them withdrawing to their homes.

At Shenandoah.

SHENANDOAH, PA., Aug. 29.—General Gobin returned to headquarters to-day and after going over the situation with Col. Clements, who was in command during his absence, he decided to proceed to Lansford and make an investigation of conditions there. He left this afternoon on a special train for the Panther Creek region, accompanied by Col. Clements and Major Millar and Farquhar. It is probable the first battalion of the Twelfth regiment will be sent to that region this afternoon, as Major Hart has made a request for assistance.

Work in the Mines.

PHILADELPHIA, August 29.—While both mine operators and officials of the United Mine Workers state that the strike situation in the anthracite field remains unchanged, it is evident that there is greater activity at present in the coal region than at any time since the inauguration of the strike. Coal is daily being shipped from various sections of the field and several washeries are known to be in operation.

What is considered a significant move on the part of the operators is the return of many mules from pasture to the mines. Hundreds of mine mules were taken to Lancaster and Chester counties, soon after the strike began, and put out to graze. These are now being shipped back to the coal regions.

General Gobin Issues Orders

SHENANDOAH, PA., Aug. 29.—General Gobin returned to headquarters from the Panther Creek region tonight. He received the report of Major Gearhart and made a personal investigation of conditions there and to-night issued an order which says:

"The troops will no longer submit to insults or violence from any source. You are therefore directed to arrest any person using insulting language, epithets, or violence towards the troops while in the performance of their duty. Have such parties arrested and taken to your guard house for future disposition. In moving troops, place reliable, competent and skilled marksmen on the flanks of the command, arm your file closers with loaded guns and instruct them that in case of attack upon the column by stones or missles, where the attacking party cannot be reached the men thus selected shall carefully note the man attacking the column and being certain of his man, fire upon him without any further orders. For the execution of this duty select none but absolutely reliable men who will make no mistake. On a general mob, if resisted, use your bayonets and butts vigorously if at all possible before resorting to volley fire."

COLOMBIA AND NICARAGUA.

The Latter Charged With Participation in Revolution Against Colombia. Explanation Demanded.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Colombia will formally demand of Nicaragua an explanation in regard to the latter country's alleged participation in the revolution against the Colombian government, and back up her demand with the most formidable land and naval force she can muster, as soon as the present rebel activity on the Isthmus has been crushed. Information to this effect was received from an authoritative source in Washington.

The above intelligence caused considerable surprise in diplomatic circles, for but a few weeks ago it was announced that Mr. Concha, the Colombian minister, and Mr. Corea, the Nicaraguan minister, had established an entente cordiale between their respective governments.

The Colombian officials here, it is stated, have received information that arms and ammunition for the Colombian regulars on the Isthmus were being shipped from Corinto. The Colombian legation here had been receiving reports of this character continually, and in view of the arrangement effected with the Nicaraguan minister before he left Washington, Senor Concha lost no time in calling Mr. Corra's attention to the matter. The latter official replied that President Zelaya would immediately institute an investigation to ascertain if the reports were well founded. A short time ago, however, more reports were received in Washington, to the effect that Nicaragua still continued her material support of the revolutionists on the isthmus, and now Colombia, it is stated, finds her patience exhausted and has decided to present a formal demand for an explanation.

It is not anticipated that the affair will lead to an actual war with Nicaragua; but nevertheless Colombia is making preparations to back up her representations with a reinforced army and navy.

PRESIDENT SHOT A BOAR.

Entertained in a Manner to His Liking at Newport, N. H.—Hunted Big Game in the Mountains.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEWPORT, N. H., Aug. 29.—President Roosevelt was to-day entertained in a manner to his liking. Instead of making numerous addresses, meeting committees and indulging in handshaking, he plunged into the forest of the Corbin preserve in the Croyden mountain region and hunted big game, and just before dark succeeded in shooting a boar. In a few remarks preliminary to his talk here, he had disclaimed any intention to go hunting, but Senator Proctor, who like the President is a good shot, induced him to alter his determination. The President arrived shortly after 10 o'clock this forenoon, and after being driven through the principal streets, delivered a short address in the public square. The town had an air of expectancy, since the President's coming had been looked upon as the most notable event in its history. No sooner had he concluded his address than rain began falling, and the President and those of his party got a thorough drenching. The President refused umbrellas, saying that his macintosh would be sufficient to protect him.

The arrangements included a visit to the Corbin mansion, where Mrs. Corbin, widow of Austin Corbin, received the President. After a short stay the long procession of carriages moved over to the home of George S. Edgill who with Mrs. Edgill entertained the party at luncheon.

The President was given an hour's start ahead of his party in order that he might visit the club house and don a hunting costume. Several times the party caught up with him and finally he and Senator Proctor entered the woods and became lost to view.

Darkness was coming on when the party returned here and soon after their arrival Secretary Cortelyou telephoned in that the President had shot a boar.

Upon their return from the woods they will spend the night at the club house and it is not improbable that the President will again try for large game early in the morning.

ARMY AND NAVY WAR MANŒUVRES

The White Squadron to Tackle Some of the Forts Along the Coast.

SHIPS STARTED AT MIDNIGHT

Expected to Proceed to an Investigation of the Situation in the Enemy's Country--Preparations at Forts to Receive Hostile Fleet

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ON BOARD U. S. ALABAMA OFF MENEMSHA BIGHT, MARTHA'S VINEYARD, MASS., August 29.—With the first period of the war manœuvres, in which the White Squadron is to contend against the army, arranged to begin at midnight to-night, this day was the scene of much activity on board each warship of the fleet. Just when the battleships, cruisers and other boats will leave this anchorage is not known, except possibly by Rear Admirals Higginson and Cogslan, the officers in command.

Although the period which starts at midnight is known as the period of preparation, it is believed that very soon after the opening hour arrives the squadron, or some part of it, will get under way and proceed to an investigation of the situation in the "enemy's" country. It is understood that during the period of preparation there may be actual bombardment or feints for the purpose of testing the efficiency of each part of the line of forts.

The squadron was augmented last night by the arrival of the converted yacht Mayflower, the Gloucester and the Leyden.

The 250 or more marines who have been camping on Martha's Vineyard returned to their ships to-day. Tents had been up since Monday and the shore service had put the men in excellent condition.

The army observers who are to cooperate with the navy umpires in rendering decisions as to the results of the various manœuvres, also joined the fleet to-day. About fifteen observers in all reported and under orders from Rear Admiral Higginson they were distributed among the various ships.

The Army Observers.

NEWPORT, R. I., August 29.—The arrival of a working detail of men from the First Massachusetts Heavy Artillery to-day and the departure for sea of the army observers who are to assist in figuring results in connection with the coming army and navy manœuvres were the most important developments here to-day in connection with final preparations for the opening of the great war game.

As far as can be learned from the various stations in this vicinity preparations are practically complete. Tests have been made and everything is declared in a satisfactory condition. Especially is this true of the signal service. It is stated by those familiar with the department that there is no better outfit than they have here. There is material sufficient for complete duplication, if necessary, in case of trouble. Every desirable point of observation along the shore of this island is covered.

It is learned that on Wednesday night, Colonel Hashbrouck gave the local forts notice that he would try to run their search lights just as a test. Going out to sea he lay in under the Narragansett shore and in its shadows tried to creep up to Fort Greble. He failed, as he hoped that he would, being picked up at a point where the guns at the fort could have done terrible execution against a real enemy.

SOUTH CAROLINA PRIMARY.

Official Returns Declared—Latimer and Evans Will Be Voted for September 9th for U. S. Senator

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

COLUMBIA, S. C., August 29.—The official returns from the Democratic primary held Tuesday to nominate a United States Senator and all State officers were tabulated to-day and the result declared by the State executive committee, which met here to-night.

Of the six candidates for Senator John L. McLaurin's place, none received a majority and the two highest, Congressman Asbury C. Latimer and ex-Governor John Gary Evans, will be voted for September 9th. Latimer has a lead of 9,000 votes on Evans, but their chances are considered even.

In the gubernatorial race the candidates in the second primary will be D. C. Heyward, of Colleton, and Congressman W. Jasper Talbert, of Edgefield. M. F. Ansel, of Greenville, was only a few hundred votes behind Talbert and owing to an error it was reported that Ansel was in the second race. Heyward received double the vote of Talbert in the first election and more than Ansel and Talbert together.

For superintendent of education O. B Martin, of Greenville, has defeated the incumbent, John J. McMahan, of Columbia. The result in this race was not known until all the official returns were in.

In the second district the candidates for Congressional nomination who will be voted in the second primary are General G. Duncan Bellinger and George W. Croft, of Aiken, the latter having a slight lead. In the third district the candidates who run the second race are D. Wyatt Aiken, of Abbeville, and Dr. R. F. Smith of Pickens. The other Congressional nominations were decided on Tuesday.

For the other nominations the candidates in the second primary are as follows:

John T. Sloan and Park Gary for lieutenant governor; A. W. Jones and G. L. Walker for comptroller general; Banks L. Caughman and W. Boyd Evans for railroad commissioner.

First Day of the Big Interstate Shooting Tournament.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RIFLE RANGE, SEAGIRT, N. J.—Aug. 29.—Although the programme for this, the first day of the big interstate shooting tournament, was devoted to matches open only to New Jersey National Guardsmen, the State teams took advantage of every available minute for practice. Perhaps the most important competition in connection with the meeting is that for the famous Hilton trophy, now held by the District of Columbia. The Hilton match will be shot next Tuesday, the competitors being teams from the Department of the East, United States army; the United States Marine Corps, New York; New Jersey, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Maryland, the District of Columbia, Ohio, Georgia and possibly other States.

A WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS.

In Case of Monroe Rogers, the Negro Arrested in Massachusetts and Wanted in North Carolina for Arson.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, Aug. 20.—Judge Knowlton, of the Supreme Court, to-day issued a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Monroe Rogers, the colored man who is wanted in North Carolina for arson, and for whose extradition Governor Crane has signed papers. The writ was made returnable forthwith and C. J. Morgan, counsel for Rogers, has notified the authorities of the court under which Rogers is to appear.

Rogers claims that he is unlawfully restrained by R. W. Smith, keeper of the lockup in Brockton and N. E Leach, city marshal of that place. His contention is based in technicalities.

At Brockton a new complication has arisen torough service upon Rogers of a warrant sworn out by James White, his brother-in-law, who claims that Rogers is in debt to him and is about to leave the State. The warrant was served to-day. The amount of the debt is said to be $30. The papers place Rogers in custody of City Marshal Leach.

Uader the extradition proceedings the marshal had orders to deliver Rogers to Officer Crabtree, of North Carolina.

CANDLER PROPOSES ACTION.

To Prevent the Merger of the Southern, Seaboard Air Line and Louisville & Nashville Railroads.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ATLANTA, Aug. 29.—The Constitution to-morrow will say:

"If the rumored merging of the Southern, Seaboard Air Line and Louisville and Nashville reaches a stage where a fulfillment seems probable, Governor Candler will take a hand in the matter and use such measures as may be in the power of the State to prevent it, so far as Georgia is concerned.

"He stated yesterday that he had read the accounts of the rumored merger and considered it clearly illegal and opposed to the constitutional law of the State. 'In the case of the Southern and Seaboard,' said Governor Chandler, 'the law would be perfectly plain, I think. They are clearly competitors, and a merger or consolidation would mean a lessening of competition which the constitution expressly forbids.'

"Governor Candler is quoted as having said that if the merger should be attempted in this State, the only way to proceed against the roads would be through an injunction. Both roads are operative under charters received in other States, and it would not be possible to proceed against them on the grounds of forfeiting charter rights."

It is said that the State attorney will be asked regarding the laws of the State that would govern the reported merger.

CASH AND CREDIT!

The impression seems to be that I sell only for cash. It is true that the lowest spot cash prices are marked in plain figures on all my goods. It is true that I do not swap new goods for old. It is true I do not sell to Tom, Dick and Harry on the "Installment Plan." It is true that by not doing either of these two things I never have anything second hand in my store, but it is not true that I sell only for cash; on the contrary, I recognize the fact that the most desirable class of people are not always in a position to pay cash, and while they do not want to pay the extortionate prices charged by installment houses, nor run the risk of buying goods that have been used by somebody else, they are willing to pay a reasonable rate of interest, and to accommodate this class of customers, I will sell to any desirable person on terms suited to their convenience, adding a small amount to the spot cash prices that are marked in plain figures on all my goods.
